SHOULD THE DATE BE CHANGED?

COMMISSIONER DELAFIELD FAVORS OCTOBER 21, 1892, INSTEAD OF OCTOBER 12-THE QUESTION OF FUNDS. Richard Delafield, of this city, one of the Commis sioners of the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago, believes that the date of the dedicatory exercises should be changed by act of Congress from October 12, 1892, to October 21, 1892, and also that Congress should make the appropriation of $5,000,000 which Chicago demands. He gives his reasons to The Trib une as follows:

"As to the change of the date to October 21: The State of New-York has through its Legislature selected October 12 for the celebration in New-York City: we concede that the Government should not change a fixed date of this kind under ordinary circumstances therwise it might be confronted with the fact that every State in the Union might be asking an accon nedation of a National date to suit some local celebra-The propriety of National dates taking tence of State dates has been settled long since. Those interested in having the National celebration at Chicago and the celebration in New-York take place different dates are confronted with the fact that the New-York Legislature has adjourned; so, even if It were possible that that body could and would make a change so far as the State date is concerned, it is now too late to do anything; recourse to our Legislature is now impracticable; therefore any change

The obstacles that arise so far as the Columbian Exposition is concerned are, that invitations have been sent to all foreign powers to attend the National cele bration on October 12; all printed matter, both in Congress and the Bureau of the World's Fair, has been issued as of October 12. Notwithstanding this, we believe that it is to the interest of all concerned that Congress change the date from October 12 to the 21st, and some of the reasons for so doing are:

First-October 12 is not the correct date of Columbus's discovery; it is what is termed the 'old style and belongs to the Julian Calendar; this calendar showed a discrepancy with the Astronomical Calendar, and a new calendar was adopted in 1582 correcting all dates of the Civil Calendar prior to that time, and | Cleveland. it now stands that the true and correct date of the discovery would be October 21, 1892. The 21st day of October of this year falls on Friday, and it is a strange coincidence that the New World was first seen on Friday; so those who look on the celebration with sentiment will feel that they are celebrating an event that took place on a Friday exactly 400 years ago. should the celebration take place on the 12th of October, it will lack nine days of being the exact date The astronomers will satisfy the world on this point and as the World's Fair is practically an educational system, the public should hold the celebration at the correct time and so have it handed down in history. On this same principle the old calendar stated that Washington was born on the 13th day of February, yet we celebrate his corrected birthday on the 22d of February, which is the 'new style.' This point was urged by John Boyd Thacher, ex-Mayor of Albany, before a commission at Washington on May 20.

"Second-As a matter of convenience, the change would undoubtedly be a benefit to every one; it would enable the President of the United States and Washington officials to pass through New-York, taking part the celebration there and going to Chicago, thus

"An argument which might be raised against changing the date would be the inconvenience to already invited guests both from Europe and in this country. This should not be a vital point, for the reason that the change of the National date from October 12 to October 21 would only be a matter of nine days, and as the event is still five months off, by ample notice being given to the guests little inconvenience would be caused. It is the wish of many persons in the West to be present at the opening exercises on October 12 in New-York, it would be an accommodation to that section of the country. There are also many in the East, especially State officials, that desire to be in Chicago at the dedicatory ceremonies. Therefore the events occurring in New-York and Chicago nine days apart, it would enable all to participate, and it is with this fact in mind that a special committee of four, consisting of Gorton W. Allen, John Boyd Thacher, Louis M. Howland and Richard Delafield, were selected to visit Washington and bring the matter before Congress. Every indication now points toward the approval of Congress. "As to the matter of the appropriation of $5,000,000, undoubtedly the Chicago funds provided for carrying on the work of the Exposition are gradually being depleted, and either Congress will have to make a loan or an appropriation for the continuance of the State of Illinois will have to raise the money; it may be said that the West has undertaken more than it can carry out, and that the people of the East believe that New-York City, had she secured the East believe that New-York City, had see secured the Fair, would have been able to provide sufficient money without any call on the National Treasury, and have carried it successfully through. Notwithstanding all this, there is a higher position to be taken, viz., that wherever the Exposition was held, the National Government should be prepared to stand and Blunt for Lehigh. Rain fell continuously and the back of and protect it. It is doubtful if any foreign nation would treat with this country if it came before them as a New-York Exposition or a Chicago Exposition. As a National Exposition alone would we be listened to by foreign countries. It is the sounds. listened to by foreign countries. It is the security that the Nation gives by its strong arm of protection that induces foreign countries to make applications, for space, which applications are now many times greater than can possibly be granted.

"Should Chicago be forced to borrow from a trust or organization of capitalists, what protection would the exhibitors from foreign countries or our own In such a case the lender would have lien on the Fair and it would resolve itself simply into a venture whereby any charge could be made to exhibitors, not only for admission, but as to all appli auces that would have to be utilized, such as steampower, and charges for space, etc., which now are free. If capitalists or any local organization controlled the fair, no New-York exhibitors would send their exhibits to Illinois any more than they would to any State celebration. The people at home and want the sense of security which only the abroad want the sense of security which only a Government can give them. If such be the case, then the Government should aid the Exposition; whether it be as a loan or an appropriation is a matter for Congress to settle. As the matter stands, Chicago claims to have provided $10,000,000; she wants $5,000,000 more; should she receive this, and the Fair costs $15,000,000 or $20,000,000, she proposes to give bonds absolutely secured by people who will provide for the faithful carrying out of this work in excess bonds absolutely secured by people who will provide for the fathful carrying out of this work in excess of the $15,000,000.

"Undoubtedly Chicago can, if the Government does not all her, carry out the Exposition to a successful completion; and if there is to be any claim on the Exposition whatever, it should be by the National covernment, and not by any-organization of or pitalisas. The question of providing $5,000,000 by the proposed souvenir half dollar has been a method favorably looked upon by a number of people as a happy solution of the settlement of this matter. It is calimed that if the Government adopts this, it will be absolutely secured, not merely from the profit on coinage, but from the fact that a large quantity of these silver solivenirs will be taken out of the country and kept as mementoes and never have to be redeemed. Therefore the $5,000,000 in souvenirs would practically be the same as a loan, and as every indication points toward the Fair being a financial success, it would be practically no loss; even if there were only a dividend of 50 per cent returned to the Government, it would still come out all right or at greatest not to exceed admitt of $1,000,000.

"The matter of appropriation or loan will probably be settled by Congress within the next ten days, and it is vital to the interest of this country that the sense of security, interest its people and aid the Exposition. The securing of itself is a matter which Congressmen should certainly be able to determine.

A SMASH-UP ON THE ST. PAUL ROAD. Preston, Iowa, May 21.- Yesterday a work train s westbound freight dashed into it at a rate of ty miles an hour. The engineer, "Lon" Owens of the work train, was probably fatally injured. The ingineer and fireman of the incoming train jumped and were both injured. The engines came together with terrific force and both exploded, frugments being thrown several hundred feet. Owens was thrown over 100 feet. Fifteen cars were demolished, one carner of the depot was torn off and the entire building shoved six inches to one side. The total damage was over $40,000.

Detroit, Mich., May 21 .- A disputch to "The Free Press," from Trenton, Michigan, says: "The dead body of Mrs. Rosa Schultz, who so suddenly disappeared found in the Detroit River near here yesterday. She was about sixty years old. Her body showed evidence of four play, her throat being cut from ear to ear; there was a large hole just above the collar-bone, and her chin had the appearance of having been smashed with some flat instrument. Her hands were bound together with a rope. Her clothes were partly torn off, and from appearances the body must have been in the river for some time. The coroner's jury hold an inquest over the body, and found a verdict of murder by some one unknown. Many of the dead woman's neighbors declared she was murdered for her property.

WILD GEESE THAT DO NOT GO TO THE PAR NORTH. Saybrook, Conn., May 21 (Special) .- Most of the ganders that apparently get left in the migration spend the season each year in Connecticut. One of the big strugglers came into Moodus, a village in the Connecticut Valley, a day or two ago, sped through the long village street and alighted in the Boies mill-pond, in the centre of the place. He plumped down into the water by the side of a lot of tame ducks, which were considerably startled by the appearance which were considerably startled by the appearance of the big bird. Mr. Treat, who dwells not far from the lake, got his gun and crept through brush, water-reeds and shunk cabbage plants to the brink of the pond, and with a single cartridge at long range killed the bird. He went out in a boat and recovered his game, which weighed about ten pounds. A stray wild garder spent the whole summer on a lake in Griswold last year, and many hunters tried in vain to bag him.

Found — not lately, but 25 years a g o — something that perfectly and that perfacely and permanently cures Catarrh in the Head. It's loctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy — and where everything else faffs, that cures. The worst chronic cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. See if yours won't. The makers of this Remedy may it will. And they make you this offer: if they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how had your case, they'll pay you $500 in cash—and they mean it.

Here are some of the symptoms of Catarrh; Heedache; obstruction of nose; discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, bloody, putrid, and offensive eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. You won't have all at once; probably only a few of them. But you wan't have may at them, if you'll take Dr. Sage's Remedy.
